

Europe at a Crossroads

Bruges, Belgium 6-8 September 2010

Does your research have an emphasis on Europe?

This conference is an opportunity to present your research and to engage with an audience from a broad range of European related disciplines. Leading international speakers and over 200 paper-givers will debate the critical issues facing decision-makers, examining where Europe should go, why and how.

The conference will be hosted by the College of Europe and will feature opportunities to enjoy the medieval city of Bruges, known as the 'Venice of the North'.

The Call for Panels and Papers opens on 5 September 2009 with the submission deadline for abstracts on 22 January 2010. We encourage contributions from all academic disciplines.

Registration will open in early March 2010.
